

Antonio Villalobos R

Process & IT Consulting

Rendon y Asociados

Antonio Villalobos is a Process & IT consultant.

Mr. Villalobos has more than three decades of experience in Process & TI, both as a consultant and as IT Director in several companies

He was Manager at Dinamica the IT Service Company for the Alfa Group, one of the biggest industrial groups in México with experience in projects in the Steel, Paper, Petrochemical, Services and Food industries

Later became founder and associated Director in a local Process and IT consulting firm working for 5 years selling and developing projects for several Bank and Industrial companies

In 1991 Mr. Villalobos joined CEMEX, a multinational Cement Company with operations in more than 50 countries around the world.

Mr. Villalobos also participated in Post Merger Integrations in the USA, Spain, and Puerto Rico

In his 20 years in CEMEX was the IT Manager in different Business Units, Director for IT México and later for Latin-American. In the Corporate Offices he was responsible for Process & IT projects in several countries in America, Europe and Asia

Recently has been developing IT consulting projects in several companies: Femsa, Nematik, Sigma Alimentos, Universidad Regiomontana, GNC, Alliax, Arca Contal, Pepsico and MDX (Florida USA)

He is a graduate of the Monterrey Tech (Instituto Tecnológico de Monterrey) where he holds a master's degree in business administration and a bachelor's degree in Computing Engineering.

He has attended executive business and technical programs in IPADE and MIT and is a part time professor of the EGADE business school in Monterrey

Mr. Villalobos was the founder and director of a joint IT Research Program currently operating in the Monterrey Tech and CEMEX

He is a member of the IT Directors Council of a regional IT Professional association